Each of these songs was written and performed by a complete stranger via fiverr.com, a web site where people offer to do things for $5. I sent each of these fine folks a found grocery list (the list songs) or a link to the story I wrote at milkeggsvodka.com (the MEV songs) and asked them to interpret in their own way. It worked out pretty good — thanks to everyone who played along. You can find the actual lists at grocerylists.org and look for my book MILK EGGS VODKA (the jingle song) in paperback in April 2011!
